

EDUCATION CERTIFICATE

What is a Matriculation Certificate?

Also known or called the Secondary School Certificate, a matriculation certificate is a certificate of proof awarded to students who have successfully cleared their class 10th examination. The matriculation exams are indeed one of the most common and entry-level exams in India. This is because the number of seats for students enrolled in class 10th is generally more than the number of students enrolled in class 11th making the matriculation certificate and matriculation exams the most common and accepted in India.

Having said that, clearing this basic level of education (matriculation exams) is extremely important in India as it is rightfully considered the gateway to all other educational opportunities for our country's students. Even if the students wish to study further in class 11th and 12th or want to pursue an ITI course, completing matriculation exams and earning a matriculation certificate is of utmost importance and mandatory.
